

Longwood Gardens Philadelphia Flower Show

Rhode Island Federation of Garden Clubs
Presents
Philadelphia Flower Show & Longwood Gardens
March 6-7, 2025

What's the better way to catch spring fever than a tour of Longwood Gardens and the world-renowned Philadelphia Flower Show? Join your fellow RIFGC members on this overnight getaway featuring the world's largest indoor flower show and one of the world's great gardens, the living legacy of Pierre S. Dupont, at Longwood Gardens.

On arrival at Longwood, we'll have lunch (included) and a guided tour of the grand Conservatory, where nearly 2 acres of flourishing gardens prosper under glass. This year's theme will be Winter Wonders, and the Conservatory will be embellished with colorful blooms, lush foliage and inviting fragrance – the perfect antidote to the chill of winter. The Orchid House showcases nearly 300 blooming orchids. The highlights tour includes the history of Longwood, followed by free time to revisit areas not included in the tour. Many will wish to visit the shop before departure.

The Philadelphia Flower Show will feature a massive, immersive flower-filled entrance garden showcasing the most colorful and beautiful plants and flowers into a sensational garden wonderland. Inspiration abounds as we view large scale floral creations and gardens created by the most talented garden artists from Philadelphia and around the world. The displays cover more than 33 acres of exhibitions, landscapes, floral designs, displays, vendors and lectures. Perennial favorites are miniature dioramas made with living plants, botanical jewelry, pressed plant art, floral clothing and stunning arrangements.

Trip inclusions: Overnight at the Hilton Garden Inn directly across the street from the Flower Show and full American breakfast; admission, guided tour and lunch at Longwood Gardens; 2 Flower Show tickets per person to allow for Thursday evening and Friday morning admission; deluxe motorcoach transportation and driver tip.
